Preface.

Charles Town was first laid out in 1672, and a large lot at the southeast corner of Broad and Church (subsequently Meeting) streets was reserved for a church.

Upon this lot the first St. Philip's Church was erected about 1683. But there were probably interments made on this lot even before the first church was erected, for after the earthquake of 1886, while some workmen were repairing the foundations of the present church, they discovered a cedar coffin, with the date 1678 and the initials J. O. B. studded on the lid with brass tacks.

In 1711 a new church was commenced upon the site occupied by the present St. Philip's, and this church having been completed and occupied by the year 1727, the old church was in this latter year taken down, but the lot continued to be used as a burying-ground.

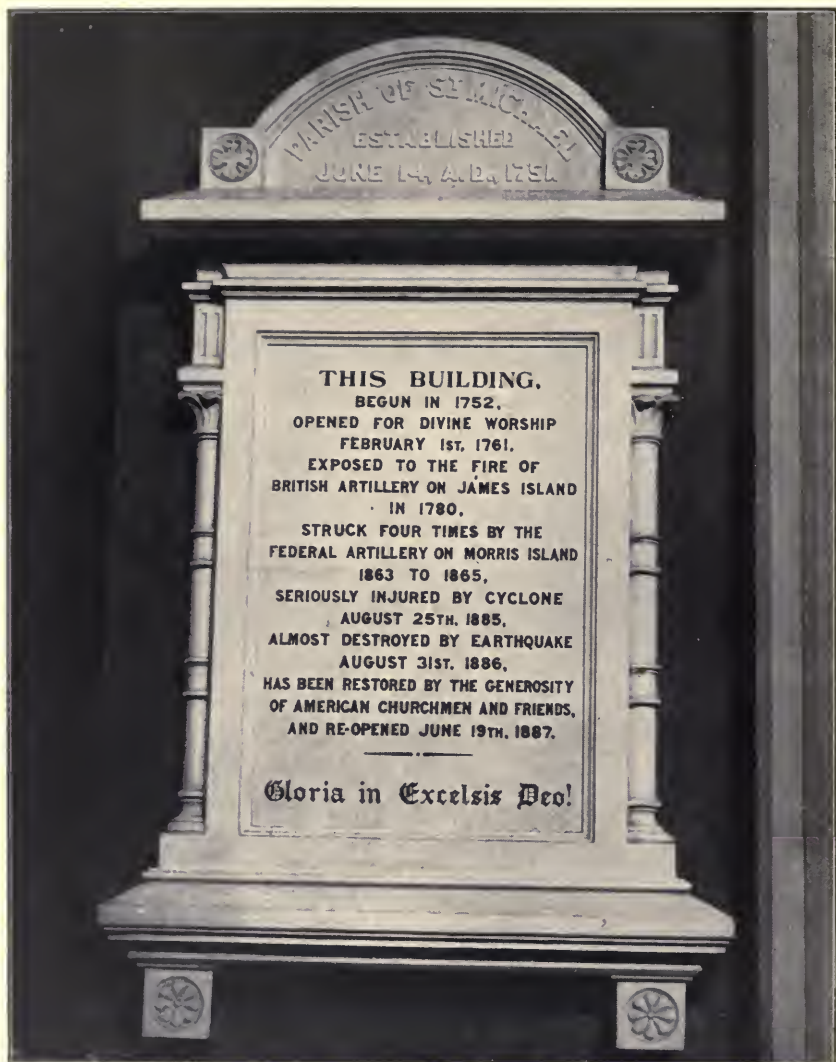

The Act for establishing St. Michael's Parish was passed June 14, 1751, and the church was commenced in 1752, upon the site of the first St. Philip's.

I wish to express my appreciation of the assistance given by Mr. A. S. Salley, Jr., in the publication of this book, and to thank all who have helped with it in any way, or have shown a kindly interest in my work.

To the memory of
JOHN S. COGDELL,
a native of South Carolina
who was born on the 19th September 1778, and died on the 25th February 1847.

In all his relations, he was a man to be cherished and loved;

he united the kindest affections, with the deepest sensibility, the purest virtue with the strictest honor.

He sustained, with the greatest urbanity, and with spotless integrity,
many public offices of trust and distinction;
and he illustrated and graced them by an enlightened mind,

a cultivated taste, and a devotion to the fine arts,
at once his ornament and his reward.

He crowned all his high and endearing qualities, by the humility and faith of the Christian, and fell asleep,
in the assurance of awaking to everlasting life,

THIS STONE

is erected by the Vestry of St. Michael's Church, in memory

of

The REV. FREDERICK DALCHO; M. D.

who,

having served this Church as an assistant Minister, for 17 years;

Died on 24th day of Novr. A. D. 1836;

in the 67th year of his age;

and was buried near this place.

Fidelity, industry, and Prudence,

were the characteristics of his ministry.

He loved the Church, delighted, to the last, in its service,
and found in death, the solace & support of the Faith,
which with an exemplary constancy he had preached.

Steadfast & uniform

in his own peculiar convictions & action,

as a member & minister of the P. E. Church,

he lived & died "in perfect Charity,

with all men."

[West Wall.]

Sacred to the Memory of the

HON. HENRY DEAS,
who was born 20th June 1770,
and died 2nd December 1846.

With earnest patriotism
and enlightened devotion to constitutional liberty, He zealously engaged in eventful political measures,
and by his wise and prudent counsel, by his graceful, earnest and persuasive eloquence and by the moral force of a pure and elevated character exerted a prominent influence in public affairs.

In December 1835

He retired from the Senate of this State,
over which he had presided, eight sessions,
With memorable courtesy, dignity and ability.

To the social attractions of elegance, refinement, wit and engaging benevolence
he added fidelity

In the discharge of every relative duty.

A husband, tender, assiduous, devoted;
The affectionate friend and counsellor of his children;

A humane and gentle master,
He excelled in the domestic virtues.

In life, and in death,

With a reasonable, religious and holy hope,
He trusted in God.

[North Wall.]

Sacred
to the Memory of

THE RIGHT REVD. THEODORE DEHON, D. D.

Late Rector of this Church and Bishop of the Diocess, who ceased to be mortal, on the 6th day of August 1817.
In the 41st Year of his life, and the 20th. of his ministry.

GENIUS, LEARNING AND ELOQUENCE

Added lustre

To a character formed by Christian principles and a constant study of the Christian's model.

MEEK: He was swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.

HUMBLE: He esteemed others better than himself.

MERCIFUL: He sought out the poor, and the afflicted.

DEVOTED to GOD: He counted his life, not dear to himself, so that he might finish his course with joy, and the Ministry, which he had received of the Lord Jesus,
To testify the Gospel of the Grace of God.

ZEAL: fortified by DISCRETION, and FIRMNESS by MODERATION

SANCTITY united with URBANITY, and GOODNESS with CHEERFULNESS,

RENDERED HIM

the DELIGHT of his friends;

the ADMIRATION of his Country;

the GLORY and HOPE of the Church.

His death was considered a public calamity.

The pious lamented him as a primitive Bishop,
the Clergy as a Father,

and youth and age lingered at his grave.

He was buried under the Chancel, by direction of the Vestry, who also caused this Monument to be erected, in testimony of THEIR affection, and HIS merit.

Quis desiderio sit pudor, aut modus,

In memory of EDWARD JENKINS D. D., who died in April 1821 in Glamorganshire in Wales, the place of his nativity. He was educated at Jesus College Oxford, And having removed to this Country,
was successively, Rector of the Churches of St. Bartholomew, St. Michael & St. Philip.
Whilst he was Rector of St Michael's, his orthodox principles as a Minister of the Gospel, his abilities as a Preacher, his assiduity as a Parochial Priest, his candour, probity and benevolence, his exemplary pious, and moral conduct graced with the acquirements of the Scholar, And polished manners of the Gentleman, designated him as well qualified, for the dignified station of Bishop of South Carolina, to which he was elected Decr. 20, 1804,
and which he declind, apprehensive that his advanced age, might impede,
the punctual discharge of its duties.
Bereaved by death, of the Issue he had
by his beloved wife, a native of this State, He showed a Parental kindness, to the children and grandchildren,
whom she had by a former husband,
They to record his worth, and their gratitude, Here place this inadequate Memorial.

"The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance."

This Tablet
is erected by the Vestry in affectionate remembrance of REV. PAUL TRAPIER KEITH.
who served God in the sacred ministry of his Church forty three years.

First as rector of the Parish of Prince George Winyah
next as assistant Minister and Rector of St. Michaels, Charleston.

A man "in whom was no guile"
of the sweetest natural disposition, of rare modesty
and firm for the truth,

Born in Georgetown of this State, October 26th 1801,
made deacon January 6th 1825, ordained Priest April 20th 1827,
Died in Charleston August 23rd 1868.

Sacred

To the memory of

DOCTOR WILLIAM READ,

A native of Christ Church Parish, South Carolina, who departed this life on the 21 April 1845,

In the 92 year of his age.

He first served his country as a volunteer

In the War of the American Revolution;

And afterwards as a Deputy Surgeon General

In the Army, under the immediate eye of General Washington;

He had the high satisfaction of attracting the personal regard, and winning the approbation of the Father of his country.

As a Physician, he was skilful and benevolent;

As a citizen, generous and public spirited;

And as a man he lived honored and respected by all.

For several years he was a member of the Vestry
and a communicant of this Church,

In the cemetery of which his remains are buried;

And at the time of his decease he was President of the State Society of the Cincinnati.

In temper, he was frank, manly and sincere,

In deportment, dignified and courteous;

And in all the domestic relations of life

Exemplary and irreproachable.

This monument is consecrated by filial reverence

To the memory of an honored parent.

[North Wall.]

In memory of
THEODORE DEHON WAGNER
Merchant of Charleston, S. C.
Born 24th March, 1819,
Died 23rd February, 1880.

“He delivered the poor when they cried, and the fatherless who had none
to help them;
The blessing of him that was ready to perish
came upon him;
and he caused the heart of the widow to sing for joy.”

[Vestibule.]

"Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints."

To the memory of the REV. THOMAS JOHN YOUNG, Assistant Minister

of St. Michael's Church,

who was born Oct. 22nd, 1803,

and died Oct. 11th. 1852.

In his character, were blended the affections which make the happiness of domestic life, with the qualities that adorn the Pastoral Office,

A vigorous mind carefully cultivated, a disposition earnest and firm, yet full of tenderness, a pure and holy life;

he grasped the entire circle of his duties, and disease, that wasted his strength for years, could not weaken his devotion to them;

the goodness of God permitted him to crown the instructions of his life by the lesson of his death; strong in Faith, Hope and Love for his friends and people, he forgot nothing that concerned their welfare, and ceased his cares for Christ's Church on Earth only when called to it's joys in Heaven, "where they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the Firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness, as the Stars forever and ever." Dan'l. 12, verse 3.

These lovely babes, how like a flower
That ere it blooms it dies
And what is Man's best lengthened hour
How swift the vapour flies.

These once sweet babes that now lifeless lie Caused many an anxious thought But soon alas! our comfort dies
Our fondest hopes—how short.

This interposing gloom we'll wait—
Behold! stern Winter flies:
Then dress'd in Beauty roseate bloom
These lovely Babes shall rise.

The Rev. Edward Rutledge,

Was reprinted in England and instrumental

In turning many to righteousness

"Some glorify God by their lives

He by his death."

His father, once of Ohio,

Now the Bishop of Illinois,

Visiting this City in Feb. 1840,

caused this Stone to be erected

In testimony of his never dying love

To his deceased Son,

And of his gratitude to all who

By their Christian Hospitality

No Power nor Art can shun the Stroke of Death
Or lengthen Life beyond the appointed Hour For GOD first gave and GOD recalls our Breath
And Death the Executioner of his Power.

[F. 4.]

GEORGE AUGUSTUS CLOUGH

a native of Liverpool

Died suddenly of Stranger's fever

Novr. 5th. 1843.

Aged 22.

Of all thy kindred at thy dying day
 Were none to speed thee on thy solemn way;
 Yet ever lives distinct and deeply dear
 Their sight with them of this thy corner here;
 Each heart so oft hath come and sought and seen That Ocean space hath shrunk to naught between,
 And more their own seems now the stranger's shore
 Than when with thee they dwelt on it before.

Since God doth early break the golden bowl,
 And loose the silver cord that links the soul
 To earth, His will be done. Oh, may he rise
 A chosen vessel to a heavenly prize.

[The first eight lines of this inscription were written by the English poet, Arthur Hugh Clough, and his eldest brother, Charles, wrote the last four. Both were brothers of George Augustus. The Cloughs had lived in Charleston many years before, but had returned to England.]

To the Memory of
JOHN S. COGDELL,
Native of South Carolina
Who was born on the 19th. of Sept. 1778
And died on the 25th of Feby. 1847
In all his relations,
He was a man to be cherished and loved,
He united the kindest Affections with the deepest Sensibility,
The purest Virtue with the strictest Honor:
He sustained with the greatest urbanity,
and with the spotless integrity
Many public Offices of Trust and Distinction
And he illustrated and graced them
By an enlightened mind cultivated Taste,
And a devotion to the fine Arts
At once his Ornament and his Reward.
He crowned all his high endearing qualities
By the Humility and Faith of a Christian,
And fell asleep, in the assurance Of awaking to everlasting Life, Thro the merits of the Redeemer.

The early developement of extraordinary mental powers seemed the bright dawn of great future eminence. His disposition was affectionate and confiding.
His character was amiable, ingenuous, modest, manly and pious.

Among his last words were,

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart therefrom."

She has left a husband and two daughters to bemoan their irreparable loss.

When sorrowing o'er some stone I bend,
Which covers all that was a friend
And from her voice her hand her smile Divides me for a little while,
If e'er my heart forget—
Her welfare or her wo—
Let every joy this heart forsake
And every greif o'erflow
For her my tears shall fall,
For her my prayers ascend
To her my cares and toils be given Till toils and cares shall end.
I praise her heavenly ways,
Her sweet communion and solemn vows
Her hymns of love and praise.

aged 91 years and 6 months.

He was admitted to Deacons orders in June 1789,

And to Priests orders in June 1790

By the first Bishop of New York.

After several years of pastoral duty in

The Diocese's of New York and New Jersey,

he was Elected Rector of St. Bartholomews Parish, So. Ca. 3rd. Feby. 1807.

During the remainder of his life,

he was engaged in the faithful discharge of the duties of the ministry,

in connexion with this Diocess

As parish priest, missionary and author,

he laboured earnestly and usefully in the inculcation of the principles and precepts of true Christian piety, as Embodied from the Bible in the system of the Church which he served and which he well understood and truly loved.

When age and infirmity

prevented more public exertion,

and enforce the religion

Of that Saviour, in whom he finally sleeps.

Sacred
To the Memory of
MISS HARRIET FOWLER, Third Daughter of the Reverend ANDREW FOWLER, A. M. and MRS. MARY FOWLER,
She was born in the State of New York,
April 5th. 1793,
And died in this City, May 12th. 1812.
She was modest, but affable, Pious, yet unaffected.
During three years sickness, She was never heard to repine.
As a Child, She was obedient:
As a Sister, affectionate:
As a Friend, Sincere.
While an Infant she was baptized in the Episcopal Church;
And at the age of Fourteen received the Holy Communion.
Her only hope, for Salvation, was in the blood of atonement.
In the last scenes of her life, She afforded an example to the young and to the Aged.
When she expired, it was in the attitude of Prayer, And without a struggle or a groan.
As Angels exulting wafted her soul to Heaven
So her Friends cheerfully consigned her body to the Tomb; Confident that thus sown in weakness and corruption Would be raised at the last day, in incurruption, and Glory;
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord.
GLORIA DEO.

This Tablet

also records the memory of JOSEPH REED FOWLER, AB.
the eldest son and worthy of being the son of the aforesaid worthy parents
He was born at Mount Holly, New Jersey, 3rd. May 1799,
And graduated at Yale College,
September 1822.

Very soon however 20th. January 1823
while engaged in preparation for the ministry
He died in St. John's Parish, Berkeley, with every promise of respectability and usefulness in its holy functions.
With the true christian faith and piety which marked his meetness for the ministry, he met the summons of Death,
And gladly departed to be with Christ.

His mortal remains were interred at Biggin Church.

In sweet repose, beneath this humble sod,
By the Law immutable of his GOD.
He awaits, the coming of that great day,
When the soul, shall leave its abode of clay.
And spring to life, Eternal and divine,
In the presence of his Saviour most benign.

Confidently trusting in Christ
And his Redeeming love,
He sunk calmly,
To that bourne from whence
No traveller returns.

Beneath this Marble,
the too perishable Monument of a Widow's Love,
are deposited the bones and ashes of ROBERT Y. HAYNE.
No sculptured stone is needed to perpetuate the memory of this illustrious name.
The Archives of his Country are ennobled by his Honors, and his public services are stamped for Immortality
Upon the face of his native state,
and upon the Institutions of the Union,
It is the smitten Heart that would would relieve its anguish by this record of his rare virtues, his real nobleness, his incomparable excellence.
That heart alone can know how far
The Wisdom of the Statesman, the eloquence of the Senator, and the courage of the Hero were transcended by those sublimer qualities which made him the Idol of his Wife, the Pattern of his Children
the guide of his Friends,
the honest, incorruptible Patriot,
The Wisdom which counselled Nations, ruled his Home,
The Tongue which swayed the People, charmed his Fireside,
The Heart which nerved a state, allured his Household, His Widow and his Children could find no consolation in his loss save in the humble hope that they have given him up to that God who is the Father of the Fatherless

No son of South Carolina
Was ever more cherished by his noble Mother
Than the subject of this memorial.
Her honors were heaped upon him in early and rapid succession.
Elected at his majority to her House of Representatives
He soon became its Speaker;
And was thence transferred to the responsible station of Attorney General.
When just old enough to claim his seat,
He was chosen to represent Her In the Senate of the Union.
Having eloquently vindicated her Principles,
In her moment of extreme peril, She entrusted her Honor to his keeping, laying upon his shoulders
the burden of her Government.
No sooner was the sword sheathed than she summoned him to advocate the interest of her Agriculture and Commerce.
In the fulfilment of these trusts
He sacrificed his Life
having lived long enough for his own fame:
having died too soon for his Country's good.

Hon. John Rutledge, deceased. and wife of Francis Kinloch.
To an energy of mind equal to all the accidents of life and to a serious and delicate sense of propriety, founded on a knowledge of her religious and moral duties were united in this most lamented woman.
The gentlest manners, a cultivated understanding and a most tender and compassionate Heart

This Humble memorial of her,
who was for many years his constant and invaluable friend & companion, was erected by her Husband.

She died March 1st. in the year of our Lord

Christian Charity

Purified and adorned a faith of which

Jesus Christ was the Alpha and Omega and rendered more endearing,

The tender and sacred ties of Husband, Parent, Friend

Unallured by the honors and distinctions of the world

In the more congenial walk of private life
He won

The esteem and affection of many,
The respect and confidence of all.

JAMES LOUIS PETIGRU

Born at

Abbeville May 10th. 1789,

Died at Charleston March 9th. 1863.

JURIST, ORATOR, STATESMAN, PATRIOT.

Future times will hardly know how great a life

This simple stone commemorates,—

The tradition of his Eloquence, his

Wisdom and Wit may fade;

But he lived for ends more durable than fame.

His eloquence was the protection of the poor and wronged

His Learning illuminated the principles of Law—

In the admiration of his Peers,

In the respect of his People

In the affection of his Family,

His was the highest place;

The just meed

Of his kindness and forbearance.

His dignity and simplicity

His brilliant Genius and his unwearied industry,

Unawed by Opinion,

Unseduced by Flattery

Undismayed by disaster.

He confronted Life with antique Courage

And Death with Christian Hope.

 In the great Civil War

He withstood his People for his Country,

But his People did homage to the Man

Who held his conscience higher than their praise;

And his Country

Heaped her honours on the grave of the Patriot,

To whom, living,

His own righteous self-respect sufficed,

Alike for Motive and Reward.

“Nothing is here for tears, nothing to wail
Or Knock the breast, no weakness, no contempt, Dispraise or blame, nothing but well and fair
And what may quiet us in a life so noble.”

This stone is erected by his Daughter Caroline Carson.

Sacred
to the memory of
JAMES R. PRINGLE, JR.
Eldest son of James R. and Sarah L. Pringle, Born 23rd. September 1846, Died 7th. May 1872.
In his early grave lie buried Joys and hopes of devoted parents,
And just expectations of loving friends.
Inspired by a character of uncommon purity and excellence.
Faithful to his native State
He served her in the field:
Upright and earnest
In the business of life.
He acquired the esteem of men.
Cheerful and amiable
He won their attachment.
Conspicuous among his graces
Was that genuine filial love
Which in its duties finds its pleasures.
The principles
Which should govern his conduct,
Were sought in the precepts
of our holy religion;
For in very early youth he had been led to acknowledge before the world
Him who is "The way, the Truth, the Life," And through Whom
"Death is swallowed up in victory."

Sacred
To The Memory
of
JAMES REID PRINGLE
Who died 11th July, 1840.
In the 58th. year of his age.

Firmness, Probity and Honor Characterized him through life,
And in all its duties and relations
He maintained a strict regard
For the principles and obligations Of Christian morality.
Elected to high Offices
Both in this State and City,
He discharged them
With a fidelity and usefulness
That commanded the confidence and respect of his fellow citizens.
In social and domestic life He was most beloved by those who knew him best.

Here rest the remains of JAMES REID PRINGLE,
ninth son of William Bull and Mary M. Pringle.
Born in this City 8th. October 1842
In the recent War
He served as a Captain In the First Regiment of South Carolina Artillery.
Subsequently he became A member of the Bar of San Francisco And merited
The honours of his profession.
But his highest distinction was That he was a soldier of the Cross And strove to follow His Master
In humble trust and holy living.
He had much to live for
In his wife, his children
And what the world calls fortune
But death was his great gain
For he passed from the joys of earth
To the blessings of heaven
From the vanities of time To the riches of eternity on the 9th. June 1871.

 of Heaven.”

[F, 3.]

Sacred to the Memory of JOHN JULIUS PRINGLE, ESQ.
 Who died on the 17th. March 1843
 In the Ninetieth year of his age.
 For many years an eminent lawyer
 In this city, he was not less admired For his knowledge which was various And profound, than for Those qualities of heart and mind
 Which made it honorably & practically useful.
 Preferring the calm of retirement
 To the distinction of public life,
 He rather shunned than sought office:
 And was as remarkable for declining,
 As many are, for courting its honors
 But the appointments which he did accept Both elevated and responsible,
 Were discharged with learning,
 Ability and fidelity.
 He submitted patiently to the infirmities
 Of age, and died with the resignation of a Christian.

Illa praemittitur non amittitur.

At the base of this Pilaster
Was committed to the earth,
All that was mortal and perishable of SUSANNAH, who was forty seven years,
The very amiable and excellent wife
Of John Julius Pringle Esquire.
She was born 14th. December 1768
And died 7th. February 1831.
She was liberally endowed,
With the qualities of the head, heart,
And person, which most adorn and endear
The loveliest of her Sex;
These were rendered the more estimable
By her discreet, moral and pious conduct,
In her life she was therefore much beloved,
And at her death much lamented.
But her afflicted husband and children
"Sorrowed not as those without hope."
For they were by this hope consoled.
That GOD had willed to translate her,
From this frail and fleeting existence
To one of everlasting bliss.
And that by His grace they may so live Here, as to be reunited to her hereafter.

WILLIAM BULL PRINGLE JUN.
Born 2nd. July 1833, Died 29th. June 1859.
He possessed in an unusual degree
The varied qualities of mind and heart
Which made the man,
The Gentleman and the friend.
His generous loving genial temper Endeared him to all who knew him.

LIEUTENANT CHARLES ALSTON PRINGLE
Born 14th. January 1841 Died 29th. June 1862
of Malarious Fever Contracted in Camp on John's Island, Whilst serving with his regiment

to

ALEXANDER SHIRRAS

A Native of Old Deer, AberdeenShire
Scotland, And for 30 years a respectable Merchant of this City, who died the 20 day of October 1811 aged 58 years, with an improved mind and a benevolent heart distinguished for integrity and punctuality liberal to the unfortunate, charitable to the distressed, beneficent through life to all within the sphere of his influence

He acquired and retained the esteem & respect of all who knew Him accumulated by his honorable industry an independent fortune, and at his death rendered his goodness permanent by bequeathing among various generous donations a considerable part of his well earned wealth to found and endow
THE SHIRRAS DISPENSARY.

The munificent institution which he has established, the poor, the afflicted and the unhappy of future ages who may enjoy the benefits of his bounty shall perpetuate and bless his memory.

To Commemorate the Virtues
of
MISS ANN F. SIMONTON
who died on the 1st. day of Sept. 1828,
The South Carolina Society
Have erected this Tablet.

Recommendations from the most respectable sources of the high attainments of this lady induced the Trustees of the Academies established by the Society to select her as the Principal of the Female department.

Urged by a pious sense of filial duty
To contribute to the comfort of an aged mother she sought the responsible office, and in a short time fulfilled the hopes which her reputation had authorised.

To an energy not inconsistent with the character of the softer sex She added an urbanity, which tempered without impairing her discipline.

The interesting objects of her care acknowledged the justness of her decisions whilst they were grateful for the mildness with which these were enforced.

Zealous and cheerful in the discharge of her duties, she won the studious application of her admiring pupils, whose innocent tears consecrate the memory of her Virtues, and afford the best illustration of her eminent worth.

Distinguished for high integrity and benevolence of character, his memory is Cherished with uncommon respect and affection by all who knew him.

In his death a large family have suffered an affliction of no ordinary kind.

He was most tenderly beloved
And most feelingly regretted

Not in his innocence we trust
We bow before Thee in the dust,
And through the Saviour's blood alone
We look for Mercy at Thy Throne.

There is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the World to save Sinners.

Who was born in New York
on the 30th. of May 1765;
and died in Charleston
on the 6th. of December 1820:
AEt 55 years 6 months and 6 days

He was a respectable inhabitant of Charleston So. Ca. for about thirty-five years; and a man of undeviating probity, conciliating manners and extensive information; A good and useful Citizen of the community in which he dwelt, possessing public confidence and public respect. He was truly a philanthropic and benevolent man; and as a Christian, humble and resigned.

He view'd the insatiate tyrant of the grave,
With soul unshaken and with eye serene;
Believing that he comes with icy hand
To stop the current of our mortal course
But as the agent of a God of love;
Who wills our Souls should leave this orb of woe.

To dwell with him in bliss eternally.

Ah! hapless Frances, let the friendly muse,
To thy Stone tomb the tragic tale impart Nor let thy Shade the friendly boon refuse
'Tis the last tribute of a friendly heart.

What! tho' a victim to the wrathless flames;
Thy rising charms untimely did expire:
'Tis Heaven, who only such perfection claims,
Consumed to kindle with seraphic fire.

of

MRS. ANN C. ZEALY.

Who was a member of the Church for upwards of fifty years.

Though afflicted in body and the loss of sight for many years yet—she never murmured, but with humble resignation often said “the Lord hath done it for My good,” and it was sanctified to her,

For she retained her memory to the last, enjoying the comforts
And consolations of the blessed Gospel
And finally “fell asleep in Jesus”

On the 27th. Sept. 1855, Aged 82 years, 11 months 7 days.

Here in the silent grave is laid
The mortal body freed from pain,
That debt by nature must be paid
For all return to dust again;
Tho all that's mortal must decay,
Their is a part which cannot die,
And that—will waft its onward way
To meet—its just reward on high.

[B. 1.]

MAN!

“Is born to die.”

In silence here, rest the remains Of a dutiful son, a fond brother,
Over whom friendship dropt a tear,
For, at the grave “Jesus wept.”

WILLIAM EHNEY ZEALY

Departed this life
On the 25th. July 1845.
Aged 40 years, 5 months
And 7 Days.

He found peace in believing
And died without a struggle.
